- Provides employees with a sense of meaning and motivation.

- Aligned with the organization's purpose.
- Clear, concise, and actionable.
- Based on a thorough analysis of the market, competition, and internal capabilities.

Creating a strategy is an iterative process that requires collaboration and input from across the organization. Leaders must foster a culture of open dialogue and encourage diverse perspectives.

Structure: The Framework for Execution

The final piece of the alignment puzzle is structure. This refers to the organizational structure and processes that support the execution of the strategy. The structure should:

- Promote collaboration, innovation, and accountability.

Designing an optimal structure is a complex task that depends on the organization's size, industry, and unique circumstances. Leaders must carefully consider the roles, responsibilities, and relationships within the organization.
