

Nepal: An Insider's Guide to the Land of the Himalayas

Nepal is a landlocked country in South Asia. It is bordered by China to the north and India to the south, east, and west. Nepal is home to eight of the world's ten highest mountains, including Mount Everest, the highest mountain in the world. Nepal is also a country of great cultural diversity, with over 100 ethnic groups and 123 spoken languages.

There is no shortage of things to see and do in Nepal. Here are just a few of the highlights:

- Trekking: Nepal is a trekker's paradise, with trails to suit all levels of fitness and experience. The most popular trekking destination is the Everest Base Camp Trek, which takes you to the base of Mount Everest.
- Mountain climbing: Nepal is home to some of the world's most challenging and rewarding mountain climbing peaks. If you're up for a challenge, you can attempt to summit Mount Everest or one of the other 8,000-meter peaks in Nepal.
- Cultural exploration: Nepal is a country of rich culture and tradition. You can visit ancient temples, monasteries, and villages to learn about the history, religion, and way of life of the Nepali people.
- Wildlife viewing: Nepal is home to a variety of wildlife, including tigers, rhinos, elephants, and snow leopards. You can go on a safari in one of Nepal's national parks to see these amazing animals in their natural habitat.
