Synopsis

Geronimo Stilton and his friends are having a peaceful day in their village when they are suddenly attacked by a swarm of caveflies. The caveflies are relentless, and they quickly overwhelm the villagers. Geronimo and his friends must find a way to stop the caveflies before they destroy their village.

Geronimo and his friends try everything they can to stop the caveflies, but nothing seems to work. The caveflies are too strong, and they are multiplying too quickly. Just when all hope seems lost, Geronimo has an idea. He remembers that caveflies are attracted to light, so he and his friends build a giant bonfire. The caveflies are drawn to the light, and they are soon trapped in the fire.

With the caveflies defeated, Geronimo and his friends are able to return to their peaceful lives. They have learned that even the smallest of creatures can be dangerous, and that it is important to be prepared for anything.
